++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
On the cloudy side overnight, gradually brightening up Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
On the cloudy side for many overnight, with the best of limited cloud breaks developing in eastern parts. Staying dry for most, although the Peak District in particular may see thicker cloud, some mist and the odd spot of drizzle. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Saturday:
Probably a rather cloudy and locally damp, misty start, however cloud should develop breaks, allowing some warm sunny intervals to develop, perhaps more likely in the south and east. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Mainly fine again on Sunday, with further warm sunny spells for many. However, becoming windier later, ahead of a more unsettled, cooler and more showery start to the working week.
